Narberth Base Ball Team in Winning Column Again

Takes Rosemont's Number in Saturday's Game

George Fleck's three-bagger and Heckle's single in the eleventh inning won for Narberth against Rosemont on Saturday by a score of 6-5. After trailing 5-1 for eight innings, Narberth sent the game into extra innings by getting to Lawless for four runs in the eighth. Yowell held Rosemont to seven hits, errors figuring largely in Rosemont scoring. Bill Humphries with four hits, and Dickie and Fleck with three apiece led the Narberth attack.

Custard and Curven played best for Rosemont.

NARBERTH BOY SCOUTS OFF FOR CAMP

Thirty of our Narberth Boy Scouts with their Scout Master, Fred C. Patten, left today (Saturday) for their training camp at Delmont in the Perkiomen Valley.

As heretofore, Mr. J. J. Cabrey, of Narberth and Windsor Ave., kindly donated his large truck to take the boys up, and will call for them on their return, for which the boys are very grateful.

Anyone wishing to write to the boys will address their mail to Green Lane, Montgomery Co., Pa., care of Camp Delmont.

Mrs. Walter Owens, of Washington, D. C., formerly of Narberth, is at present visiting friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Fowler spent last week in Cape May.

Tennis Players in Big Tournament

Narberth Athletes Give Good Accounts of Selves

Several of the fastest players of the Narberth Tennis Association entered the State Championship tournament played at Cynwyd this week. While no trophies were brought back to Narberth, nevertheless every member survived the first round and several were eliminated only after having successfully played through a number of rounds.

The Narberth representatives in the tournament were Harold Lane, Bob Fretz, Frank Fretz, Gene Allen and Charlie McCarter.

The excellent showing made by the Narberth boys in this tournament, together with the splendid success met by the team in the Middle States League, should encourage them to enter other tournaments with the ultimate idea of sending some players to the big national tournament.

THOSE WHO SHARE

Ever since its founding, "Our Town" has been a co-operative community paper. To a greater or less extent, a part of the cost of production has been shared by the many organizations who benefit by the use of "Our Town" for the publicity essential to the success of their enterprise.

In the early days of the paper, this support, part from organizations, and part from individuals, had to pay a large part of the operating cost of "Our Town." There were very few advertisements, and not very many paid subscribers. The deficit, then, was met by these voluntary contributions.

More recently, however, "Our Town" has become entirely self-supporting. Furthermore, a few months ago, it was found necessary to increase the standard size of the paper by 50% to accommodate the growing volume of news and advertising matter. This larger size, which is not maintained during the summer months, will be resumed in the early fall, with still further improvements in the editorial and mechanical features of "Our Town."

As the prosperity of "Our Town" increased, the voluntary contributions dropped off until a few bodies were bearing the entire expense of this part of our income, and were hence paying more than their share. These contributions still have a very important part in the life of this publication. Although the maximum income from these sources can amount to but 5% of our total operating cost, yet that 5% represents the financial margin which permits the Narberth Civic Association to turn out the most attractively printed paper of its kind to be found in these parts, perhaps anywhere.

This year a circular letter was sent to the many organizations using the columns of "Our Town," suggesting a more uniform sharing of this "Quality margin." There were a number of responses, and they are still coming in. A maximum of $1 per week was suggested. Most organizations are unable to go that high, as they turn surplus funds into their own improvements, but the response to date has been most generous.

Our most sincere thanks are extended to the following organizations for recent contributions to the work of this, Narberth's Community paper.

Tennis Club Auxiliary	$ 5.00
Methodist Church	25.00
Tennis Association	25.00
Am. Legion B. and L.	10.00
League of Women Voters	15.00
St. Margaret's Church	25.00
Women's Community Club	35.00
Junior Community Club	10.00
Narberth Choral Society	15.00

"Our Town" now has by far the largest paid circulation in its history, and the Management is making every effort to make a still closer appeal to the people of Narberth by constant attempts to improve the physical appearance and contents of each issue.

CHAMPIONSHIP BASE BALL

A ball game which promises to rival the World Series in importance will be played next Monday evening, July 31st, at 6.15 sharp, on the new ball field at Rockland and Wynnewood avenues.

The combat will be between the Narberth All Stars, and the Narberth Married Men's Club. A glance over the line-up will show clearly that this is going to be a high-class and bitterly contested scrap. The very cream of Narberth's base ball talent is included in this list of stellar players. Just listen to this:

SCHOOL BOARD TO MEET

The regularly monthly meeting of the School Board will be held next Monday evening, July 31st.

At this meeting, it is planned to get the work of preparing for the coming School election officially under way. The School's attorney will be consulted with a view to preparing for the advertising of the election for one month, as required by law, and getting the stage set for the issuance of the bonds if the election is successful.

In view of the unanimous approval of the plans for the new structure, voiced at the Citizens' Meeting on Friday night, July 14th, the Board feels that all possible speed should be observed in getting the matter officially before the people. The improvements are needed at once, and action on the election, to authorize the issuing of $150,000 in bonds, should be secured without delay. A special election will probably be called, if valuable time can be conserved in that way.

A RIOT OF MELODY

Master Joseph Rankin acclaimed to be the most brilliant juvenile musician in this part of the country and recognized by musical critics as "The Boy Wonder," will play a limited engagement at the new Ardmore Theatre beginning Monday evening, July 31.

He will appear at the Ardmore Theatre every evening and Saturday matinee of week of July 31.

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. McHose, of Narbrook Park, have returned from a week's stay at Eaglesmere.

Fred C. Patten, of Woodside Avenue, has been appointed Postmaster at Narberth to succeed Edward S. Haws, the present incumbent.

The appointment was made last Friday, July 21st. Mr. Patten will assume charge of the office some time during the coming week. Before the actual transfer takes place, certain details of bonding, taking of the oath, etc., had to be taken care of.

The appointment of Mr. Patten is the outcome of a five-cornered contest for the office. When the news was announced that Mr. Haws' term was about to expire, five applicants came forth to take the Civil Service examination for the position. These were, Edward S. Haws, Carden Warner, A. W. Needham, Miss Ivy R. McLean and Fred C. Patten. It was known over two weeks' ago that Congressman Watson had recommended Mr. Patten from the list of successful competitors, but the appointment was not made by the President until last week.

The removal of Mr. Haws was a source of surprise and disappointment to many residents, who felt that party battles should not extend into a community such as Narberth. It appeared strange to many why a group of politicians hundreds of miles away should decide the matter of the control of an organization intimately concerned with community interests—far more so than in cities. However, in matters like this the ordinary citizen has no say. The justice, or the injustice is the same in every case, for Mr. Haws received his appointment by the Democratic administration through the removal of Mr. Joseph Mullineaux, a Republican.

Mr. Haws has held the position for 8 years and 7 months, having assumed office on January 1st, 1914. During that time he has seen the population of Narberth double itself, and the post office grow from a dingy little box to its present efficient organization.

The post office force at the present time is composed of nine members. These are, Edward S. Haws, Postmaster, Jack M. Haas, Assistant Postmaster, Ruth E. Haws, Clerk, Mary Gara, Substitute Clerk, Wayne D. Burnside, Substitute Clerk-Carrier, Frank Engelhart, Stewart Hall and Clarence Long, Carriers, and Benjamin F. Yowell, Substitute Carrier. Jack M. Haas, the Assistant Postmaster, has been on leave of absence from the office for about six months on account of illness. He is now in a serious condition at his home.

When asked for a statement on the impending change, Mr. Haws said simply, "Express to the people of Narberth my most sincere thanks for the splendid co-operation and loyal support which have made the rapid growth of the office possible. I certainly appreciate the backing I have had at all times."

Mr. Haws expects to devote his time for several months to the considerable task, now under way, of remodeling his house. A new house has been added to the present structure, and the old half is being altered to three modern apartments. The new work is a distinct improvement to Dudley avenue, and added to other operations in that section, will practically complete the block.

Mr. Patten, who is Scoutmaster of the Narberth troop, is leaving today with the boys for a stay of several days at Camp Delmont. Upon his return he plans to assume charge of his new duties.

Mr. Raymond Bishop, of Dudley Ave., spent last Sunday, July 23rd, visiting his sister in New York.

A FAITHFUL SERVANT

The political axe has fallen. Mr. Edward S. Haws has been replaced as the postmaster at Narberth.

This piece of news will be received by Narberth people with varying emotions. There are those who will say with justice, perhaps, that turn about is fair play. There are others, too, who feel a real sense of regret at the loss of an official who has carried on his duties with a consistent regard for the responsibilities in his care, and with a deep sense of civic responsibility and loyalty to the town he has served.

Regardless of political affiliations, and in Narberth they are indubitably opposed to those professed by Mr. Haws, the sentiment of the people of Narberth has been overwhelmingly in favor of having Mr. Haws retained. But this could not be. The system which installed him in office at the expense of his predecessor has acted similarly to replace him.

In his eight years of service as postmaster, Mr. Haws has displayed an interest in the work under his charge which has resulted, not only in the maintenance of an excellent service, but in the improvement of the office in many ways. Since the beginning of his term, the office has been moved from its former cramped quarters in the building now serving as the real estate office of Mr. Robert J. Nash to its present excellent location. Narberth has also in this time been raised to a second class postoffice, followed later by the greatest improvement of all, city delivery.

The delivery service, which will stand as one of the biggest monuments to Mr. Haws' efforts, was established on July 1st, 1920. Since that time, there have been three carriers serving the borough, and a very efficient service maintained. These advances have been largely due to the personal interest taken by Mr. Haws in the work under his charge.

It is, then, with a sense of loss that "Our Town" sees the departure of Mr. Haws from the Narberth Post Office. The new postmaster, Mr. Fred C. Patten, enters on his duties with a high standard to maintain, but, nevertheless, with a great opportunity for the further advancement and improvement of our local postal facilities. We take this opportunity to extend to him our best wishes in his new work, feeling sure that he will receive the co-operation necessary to its success.

Several Narberth gents with sporting proclivities journeyed over to Newark, N. J., on Thursday evening to see the Leonard-Tendler fight.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Righter

GOOD MORNING

A nod to the head
And a cheer morning smile
Will start the day right
And make on feel brightly
Enough, to be pleasant
For quite a long while.

So why set YOUR day off
By serving up Gloom?
Put joy in Good Morning
(Instead of a warning).
Or laughter and cheer
You MUST simply make room.

To the notice of those seven and one-half Citizens of Narberth who, on all occasions, gleefully brag that the Column "can't do good" and "never dawn naughten" for the welfare of this our Peculiar Borough, we gracefully bring the delectably delicious cold wave which followed so closely upon the heels of the Winter's Tale that adorned this paper not so long ago.

Rumor hath it that three local deliverers of ice fainted dead away last Saturday afternoon at the impending prospects of a terrific decline in demand, probably.

No doubt everyone is enjoying the repulse, even at that, except "Steamed White," maybe. Probably he too will request Hon. Editor to fire us if the frigidity persists. But we do not care a rap if he does. Not a single, solitary rap. An entirety of that sort coming from a chap who can turn out such top-hole ice cream would be received in the light of a compliment rather than otherwise.

Every time we begin to feel as though the Column was sufficiently worth its salt to warrant our asking for a raise, out crops a new Associate Editor who knocks the props from under us and walks off with the seven-and-three-eighths Laurel Wreath. Its a fact. Why during the week one of those statuesque Assistant Narberth Community Librarians politely informed us that by actual count thirteen people asked at the desk for "Lost Valet" on the strength of Miss Bull's recent "Steer."

Be that as it may, we shall continue to maintain the dignity of our position. So much so we would like to meet this lady Bull who has so recently horned her way into "Our Town." She had just better believe that the Column won't be cowed by her, however. Not by a jugful.

To demonstrate that there is no ill will between us we hereby dare her to review any given edition of the Tower, and remark that if there exists in Narberth a mere woman equal to the job she will have the pleasure of receiving an autographed letter of appreciation from the measly cuss who misuses this perfectly good space each week.

Which will, we hope, set at ease the minds of some who have blamed Amy's laugh provoking literary explosions on us. By heck! If we could write such subtle humor as does Amy, we'd close up the old desk and never do another Column. Never-r-r-r.

There is satisfaction plus in learning that something is running smoothly in the Borough. Hon. George A. Jones boldly told the world last week that it was nothing less than his Real Estate Office. We wonder what it will be next week. If 'Steamed Jones expects to make a steady practice of having everything in general go that way, we will for twenty-five cents, direct him to the whereabouts of a certain lawn mower that needs some of his hypnotic treatment.

Not being an electrician it is a ruzzle to us what 'smatter with it. We do know however that it has a threshing machine hog-tied when clattering, banging and squeaking-in-action are taken into account.

And speaking of the elimination of noises, the Column offers a prix d'argent to the first Citizen who suggests a proper silencing device with which to equip 'Steamed Markle's Sunday morning delivery teams.

We can forgive the horse his shoes, George. Likewise can we overlook the iron tires on the wagon wheels. But, come now, George, speak to 'em gently about that infernal and unnecessary bottle rattling. Counsel 'em against bawling love messages at each other as they trip lightly (?) from porch to porch.

Last Sunday was the Sabbath dawn both broken and glorified by a duet between a driver and his assistant. From what we could gather the words were principally, "What the h—l kind of a helper are you?" The music was none too good either. While groping in the closet for our shot gun we stubbed our pet toe. And the tune we sang had in it one of the words of the duet together with several others equally as expressive but not so good.

Thus was a perfectly good First Day spoiled in its incipency. But George is human and now that the matter has been brought to his notice there is no question about something being done. If he should forget it, however, we intend letting some guy have two loads of bird shot in that part of his anatomy upon which Nature intended him to be comfortable, sitting. And if that doesn't do the trick we'll just slide off of butter and milk and let George starve a while.

STEERS TO RIGHT READING

By Amy A. Bull

To promote the general welfare of Current Literature among Narberth readers, there will appear each week a short but pithy review of a book that cannot be obtained at the Narberth Community Library. This week the cat's pajamas will be:

"Davidson of Jesse," by Marjory Scratchy

Scanning our appalling list of hand-made, selfmade and ready made millionaires, the eye of a critical Public stays generally put when names of those enriched by oils or mines cross the retina. Not so with Miss Scratchy however. She is indeed none other than the exception that proves the rule—although just which rule it proves, we have forgotten.

The sister of Lytton braves the tumult by asking what the clothing industry of this country would be, had it not been for Davidson of Jesse, Oklahoma. Then she proceeds to answer herself to her own supreme satisfaction as well as to that of some others. Miss Scratchy's yarn is all wool and a yard wide—to make use of a homely saw denoting the supra in matters of quality. The author has woven a fabric of unusual warmth and proves to a marked degree of conclusiveness that as in Mr. Davidson's case, the early age at which a man is born exerts no influence whatever upon the measure of his success.

Shortage of Building Sites in Narberth

Narberth's growth has been consistent. This may be why our folks do not realize there is little available land in Narberth for home building.

Some are planning new homes and we cannot too strongly urge the selection of the building site before it is too late.

Or, for investment, the purchase of land with constantly improving property values will yield good returns.

NURSING

The following article will be of interest to girls of the high school, and to graduates. It has been prepared by Miss Frances Maltby, who addressed a recent meeting of the Home and School Association on this topic.

NURSING

The Need and What It Means

The world is beginning to realize as it has never done before its great need of nurses. One hundred thousand more are needed in this country alone. This means that there is an increased variety of work for nurses, that bedside and institutional care of patients does not make up the entire field of nursing. With this big, new variety in the work of the nurse has come opportunity for many types of girls who have never thought of the study of nursing before, but who may now make a valuable contribution to the profession, for they are needed.

Are You One of These Girls Who May Find a Place in Nursing?

You are if you have a bent for nursing, or if you are gifted as a teacher, as a leader, or if you are a normal, average girl of ability and intelligence who wishes to serve. You should be between the ages of 18 and 35, in sound health, of high character. If you have ability, the more education you have in addition, the farther and faster will you progress in the profession, and the greater will be the personal contribution you can make to it.

Preparation

If there is still a period of school or college for you, include as far as possible these subjects in your course of study, for they will help to give both viewpoint and information desirable for your future work in the profession:

Biology, especially human anatomy and physiology,
Bacteriology,
Dietetics,
Hygiene and Sanitation,
Chemistry,
Physics,
Home Economics,
Sociology,
Modern Language,
English.

Your Choice of a School of Nursing Is Important

It is vitally important that a girl select an accredited standardized training school. Thorough instruction under especially trained instructors should be offered, and graduation from it entitle you to take State Board Examinations, the passing of which confers the title of Registered Nurse.

Opportunities after Graduation

Private Duty Nursing in homes and hospitals and on an hourly basis. This may be general in character, or the nurse may specialize along such lines as: Children's diseases, maternity work, care of nervous and mental cases, etc.

Institution Work as:
Superintendent of Nurses in a hospital school of nursing. This requires a woman of understanding, gifted in leadership, that she may elevate standards of nursing and be a guide for student nurses.

Assistant Superintendent of Nurses, Head Nurse.

Trained Instructor of Nurses—to teach theory and practice, making broad and thorough the education of the student nurse.

Chief Nurse of Operating Room. Anaesthetist.

Laboratory Assistant. X-Ray Technician.

Dietitian.

Occupational Therapy Worker.

Social Service Nurse to visit patients discharged from hospital, but requiring over-sight.

Public Health Work

In the cities there is demand for school nurses, tuberculosis nurses, visiting nurses, and baby nurses.

In the country there is demand for the Public Health Nurse who does general preventive work and teaches the people of a community how to keep well.

Industrial Nursing
Instruction in courses in care of babies and home care of the sick. 1800 nurses are doing this in city and country.

Foreign Mission Work. There is a great demand for graduate nurses to do individual work and to train native girls as nurses.

An Invitation

It will be a pleasure to have you and your friends call and let me tell you personally of the different fields of opportunity in the profession. One of them may appeal to you more than all the rest, and with that particular type of nursing in mind, you can then select the school of nursing which will give you the most advantageous course of study for that especial work.

LIBRARY NOTES

What do you think of the new head-piece which introduces the library column? It is the voluntary contribution of a friend of the library who, while remaining anonymous, thus expresses his appreciation of the work which the library is aiming to do. The library staff acknowledges the gift with gratitude and begs to assure the donor that they have constantly on their shelves just such absorbing books as those he has illustrated.

Another cause for gratitude! A member of the library staff has loaned a sum of money to the library checking account for the purpose of maintaining an appreciable bank balance. This will enable the treasurer to live up to her income in the purchase of books, thereby aiding herself, the bankers and the patrons of the library.

Have you noticed the flowers each week on the long desk of the cataloguer? They are to make you acquainted with the flowers of Narberth and vicinity in the time of their blooming. Any one at the desk will talk with you about them if you are interested.

And as for the "Collum Righter," We may know how to reply when we have begun to recover from our bewilderment. Who is he, and how did he happen to notice that our door is only "half opened?"

The twilight games draw large crowds and the crowds have been greatly pleased with the games. The Narberth boys have been playing good ball, winning right along against good teams, and the "fans" are enthusiastic. Keep up the good work.

Mrs. Roger Warner of the Avon Apartments, has returned from a trip to Vermont.

Mrs. E. H. Sickles is visiting her sister, Mrs. Pennypacker, in Atlantic City.
